THE PRIME MINISTER

17 November 1986

Dear Ron,

It was very good of you to invite me up to Camp David for our talks on Saturday, and a delight to find you and Nancy so fit and well. I found our discussion and the agreed conclusions which we reached very valuable. I believe that they will also strengthen the unity of the Alliance, as we move forward from the Reykjavik meeting.

I hope very much that you will not face continuing unpleasantness over Iran. I have made my own public comments as helpful as possible.

Thank you also for the Camp David jacket, which will have happy associations for me.

With warm regards and renewed thanks to you and to Nancy.

Yours ever,
